This Paper is filed, and may be seen free of charge, at Holloway's Pill and Ointment Establishment, 214, Strand, London, where Advertisements and Subscriptions will be received for this paper.

THE DIFFERENCE.—In New Hampshire, the Democratic press, headed by the Concord Patriot, took early ground in favor of the Nebraska Bill, maintaining its principles before the people, and the result was that, although at the late election they were obliged to encounter the devotees of every ism upon the face of the earth united to overthrow them, yet a glorious triumph was won by the Democracy.

In Connecticut, the Democratic press, headed by the Hartford Times, broke ground against the Nebraska Bill, and the Democratic State Convention passed resolutions against it. The consequence was, they were badly beaten at the State election.

Let those who think it is partly policy to oppose the Nebraska Bill explain, if they can, those different results in New Hampshire and Connecticut. It is always the safest to stand up boldly to the defence of Democratic principles.

There is now living, not far from St. Sever, (says the Memorial Borealis) an old military man who has a false leg and a false arm, both movable by means of springs; a glass eye, a complete set of false teeth, a nose of silver, covered with a substance perfectly resembling flesh, and a silver plate replacing part of the skull. He wears on his breast the cross of the Legion of Honor, won in the campaigns of Egypt, Italy, and Russia; he was also at Friedland, Jena, Austerlitz, Wagram, and Waterloo! What recollections of the past must not crowd on the old man's memory as he sits in his chair by the fire side and fights his battle o'er again!

A FAST TOWN.—In 1850 the population of Cleveland, Ohio, a few years before no town at all—was put down at 17,000. Now it is 50,000! That beats Louisville. It goes ahead of even Chicago.

INFORMATION WANTED BY A SISTER.—My two brothers lived in Cincinnati, Ohio, about eight years ago; their names are Richard and Evan Hughes. Any information concerning either of them, would be gratefully received by their sister. Direct to M. C. Postmaster, Columbus.

On Monday night, says the Cincinnati Commercial, a singular robbery of a grocery-store was perpetrated on Everett street, between Cutter and Linn. The robbers drove a large wagon to the door, gained entrance by false keys, and baubles getting $25 in cash, actually took the time to load their vehicle down with the bulky articles of sugar, rice, etc., etc.

Parks, sentenced to be hung in Summit county, Ohio, on the 26th of May next, for the murder of Beaton, will not be executed on that day, as a writ of error has been allowed, which postpones the execution of the sentence for an indefinite period.

The editor of the Smithsonian Post Boy had his thumb torn off a few days since by having his hand caught in a bathing machine.

SAFE TRAVELING.—The Ohio State Democrat, after grave and profound deliberation as to the untold sums which have been vainly expended in the endeavor to produce the invention which shall render railroad travel less liable to accidents, has arrived to the conclusion that the only way to make the travel perfectly safe, will be to dispense with the use of steam and run the cars by oxen.

Gen. Edwin Polk, uncle of the late President Polk, died recently at his residence in Tennessee, aged 85.

The Bourbon county Agricultural Society resolved, at its meeting on the 5th inst., to expend $10,000 in the construction of an amphitheatre on the grounds of the Society, and for other improvements.

The Mayor of Portsmouth, (Eng.) has addressed a letter to every chief magistrate in England and Ireland, to raise a subscription for the wives of soldiers who have embarked for the Turkish war.

The Boston Transcript mentions a case of remarkable memory as follows:—"We were once acquainted with a young man, a clerk in this city, who once committed to memory in a single evening, a whole page of the New York Journal of Commerce and repeated the same with great exactness. In the company of a number of literary young men, he defied any one present to repeat a line of poetry from any standard work, the next line of which he could not recite, and also give the name of the author. Some hundreds of quotations were made, and in each instance the right author was named, and the connecting lines given."

ASSESSORS.—In separating the public from the local and private acts, for the purpose of publication, the following act was accidentally omitted in the publication of the former. It will be printed in the volume of the local and private acts:

An Act to increase the compensation of Assessors and to pay Sheriffs for reporting tax lists.

§1. That the amount allowed assessors for their services under article 6, chapter 33, of the Revised Statutes, entitled "Revenue and Taxation," shall be ten cents for each list of taxable property, to be paid as hereafter.

§2. The sheriff shall be entitled to twenty-five cents for each list of taxable property that may be reported by him on or before the court of claims in any year, and which the assessor fails to report, and approved by the county court and certified to the auditor, he shall draw his warrant on the treasurer in favor of the sheriff for the amount of the allowance hereby made him.

Approved March 10, 1854.

§3. Creditors never annoy a man as long as he is getting up in the world. A man of wealth only pays his butcher once a year. Let him but once take his meat and his meat bill will come in every morning as regular as breakfast and hungry children.

CONVENTIONS NORTH AND SOUTH.—The Southern convention lately in session at Charleston, South Carolina, suggests a comparison between the assemblies of the nature in the North and similar bodies at the South. In point of numbers the Northern conventions have the advantage; we hear of at least a dozen conventions a year, and the "leafy month of May" usually witnesses the performances of some six or eight. At the South, one convention per annum seems to satiate the popular appetite for that style of amusement.

At the North, conventions are almost invariably radical movements, aiming at some impracticable social reform. Thus we have conventions for the abolition of slavery, for the propagation of spirit rappings, for the suppression of liquor, for the assertion of women's rights, for the destruction of the Bible, for the establishment of a new religion, and so on. At the South, conventions are at least originated on a more practical basis. There are called together to take counsel on the establishment of a direct trade with Europe, on the conversion of shallow sand-blocked harbors into great seaports, and similar subjects. There is another difference between the two. Northern conventions are seldom attended by men of practical worth and energetic reform; supporters are fanatics of every shade, broken down politicians, and hair-brained talkers. In the South on the contrary leading men commonly think it worth their while to be present at these periodical assemblies; and to undergo as much annoyance as the frivolity of their associates may inflict for the chance of conferring some practical benefit on their country. This, in point of fact is slender enough; but very rarely happens that any real good results from conventions North or South. Much time is consumed in talking; and most scrupulous attention is paid to punctilio and the rules of debate. Resolutions, highly patriotic in the South and highly philosophical in the North, are debated at length and occasionally carried, but as the fate of the convention goes forth, the members seem to think that their task is complete. In this respect, we see but little difference between Northern and Southern conventions. After the work is done, however—if that can be called work which is seldom anything more than talk—the characteristic peculiarities of the two sections of the country generally develop themselves afresh. Northern conventions close either with a fight or with prayer. Southern conventions invariably with a dinner and a ball. In this respect, we think our brethren of the South have the advantage.—N. Y. Herald.

The Jew.—The New York Times does nothing more than justice to the Jews in a recent article from which we quote.

Jews in New York.—There are said to be some 17,000 of the Jewish faith in the United States. Their churches number 31. Probably 6000 Jews are to be found in the city of New York. We seldom find one in our prisons or penitentiaries. They are not frequently found in our hospitals, and never in our poor houses. At Ward's Island, where so many hundreds of the poor drifting across from the shores of the Old World are continually gathering, we find all classes of Christians—Quakers perhaps excepted—and all shades of infidels represented, but never a Jew. When the Jewish emigrant arrives, he does not commit himself, though poverty has chased him from his old home, and met him on our wharf, to the Commissioner of Emigration, for the receipt of the assistance to which his emigration ticket entitles him but he queries first, Where is there a Jew? His brother found, leads him to the man who, by appointment of the synagogue, or otherwise, estimates the specific task of caring for such. Thirteen hundred tons of coal, we are told, have been given to the poor by the society of Israelites in New York during the present winter. This early and unflinching attention, of those who are able to do it, to the poor, most greatly tends to prevent the commission of crime, since crime stalks in nowhere so surely, as when hunger and nakedness open the door, and want perpetually beckons on.

NEW ORLEANS, April 12th, 1854.

I have just been put in possession of some facts in reference to the movements of Alvarez at Acapulco.

It is my opinion that he is more than a match for Santa Anna. He has had several small battles, and has been victorious in each one, and has made Santa Anna and his satellites retreat, with considerable loss.

The greatest excitement exist at Acapulco among the natives and foreigners. A great many Americans have joined Alvarez, and their rifles and every thing they are equipped, and they are equipped pretty often, and his forces are augmenting daily.

This is the first movement to put Santa Anna down. Depend upon it, he will lose his leg this time, or his head.

WASHINGTON, April 23.

HOUSE.—A bill authorizing the Post Master General to contract for semi-monthly mail to California, was introduced and postponed until the 1st of May in June.

The House went into committee on private bills and then adjourned until Monday.

A REMARKABLE RECOGNITION.—The last Williamsburg (Va.) Gazette states that a short time ago, while Rufin's band, from Richmond, was playing at the Eastern Institute asylum in that place, for the gratuitous and amusement of the inmates, one of them, a negro woman, who had been confined to the hospital for many years, suddenly stepped forward, and, pointing out a member of the band, exclaimed, "There is my son whom I have not seen since he was two years old!" The musician was greatly surprised at first; but upon inquiring, he was convinced that his mother stood before him—a being that he had never before seen, and whom he had no recollection of ever having seen. We understand he has been permitted to the board of directors to have his mother restored to him, which was granted, and he has taken her home to Richmond, after confinement in the hospital twenty-three years.

THE WASHINGTON UNION of the 16th comes to us in a new and beautiful dress. The type used is smaller than that of the old issue, and the paper contains more matter than heretofore, although the volume is contained in a vast amount. The number of the paper mentioned is the beginning of a new volume. The weekly paper is now published at one dollar a year, instead of two formerly, being reduced in size, to enable it to meet the change in price.

Whatever course some violent politicians may attempt of the character of the Union, we regard it as not only among the ablest papers in this country, but in many respects superior to any other. It is conducted with great industry, and is generally dignified, courteous, just, and in reference to public officers being employed in civil stations, seems to us to be unexampled in the views it advances. It does not insist that it is proper as a permanent policy to employ them. But it defends the propriety of their employment up to this period in a most triumphant manner.

The Union is eminently deserving of the cordial support of the Democratic party.—Low Times.

SAINT PATRICK'S CHURCH ROBBED AND SET ON FIRE.—About half past 3 o'clock this morning, watchman Fogg discovered a heavy volume of smoke issuing from St. Patrick's Church on the corner of Third and Mill Streets. He instantly gave the alarm of fire to the nearest engine-house, and then proceeded to force an entrance into the church for the purpose of saving property. When the doors were first opened, there was but little flame, and that was in the rear of the altar. The fire, however, burned rapidly, and soon blazed nearly to the ceiling. By the prompt application of water by our ever-vigilant firemen, the flames were soon subdued, and the church edifice saved from destruction. The altar and the floors around and about it are much burned, and the walls and ceilings injured by smoke.

After the fire was extinguished it was found that the closets containing the silver vessels of the church, had been broken open and the sacred vessels stolen. It was also discovered that one of the pews of the church had been put on fire, and was reduced to a pile of ashes. A faith which had been placed under it. These facts leave no doubt but the church was entered by some sacrilegious thieves, who, after having plundered the altar, endeavored to destroy the edifice.—Cin. Times, Tuesday.

HOW TO DEVELOPE THE HEIGHT AND COLT WILL ATTAIN WHEN FULL GROWN.—Mr. Jas. R. Martin, of Kingston, Kentucky, gives out the following upon this point, which is certainly novel, and perhaps may be true.

"I can tell you how any man may know within half an inch, the height a colt will attain when full grown. This rule may not hold good in every instance, but more out of ten it will. When the colt gets to be three weeks old, or soon as it is perfectly straightened in its limbs measure from the edge of the hair on the hoofs to the middle of the first joint, and for every inch it will grow to the height of a hand of four inches when it is fully matured. Thus if this distance be found sixteen inches, it will make a horse sixteen hands high. By this rule, I have measured some of the best colts of a horse, with proper care, he is expected to make a colt. Three years ago I bought two very shabby looking colts for twenty dollars each, and sold them recently for three hundred dollars. So much for knowing how to guess properly at a colt."

THE SLANDERER.—The slanderer is a pest, a disgrace, an incubus to society, that should be subjected to a slow extermination, and then be topped off like a disagreeable excrescence. Like the viper, he leaves a stinging trail in his wake. Like the scorpion, he leaves a deadly sting in the tail of his victim, or with all the kind invidiousness of a snake, he leaves a deadly sting in the tail of his victim. Salamander Safes.
THE name of Salamander was first applied to Wilder's Patent, and introduced by the inventor in 1810, who in 1844 purchased the right to manufacture
the Patent of Wilder's (Wilder's) Salamander Safes from all others, and made no inference upon the patent right by using the name of Salamander caution, and to avoid a lawsuit, made an inferior article, imitating the exterior in form, style, color, painting, and attaching the name "Salamander," improved Salamander's "Fire Proof" Salamander. The name Salamander, &c., &c., and have succeeded in passing off some of the spurious Salamanders as genuine. Those wanting the original Salamander, manufactured by the inventor, should take the precaution to see that they have upon them a metal plate—Siles C. Hering, Manufacturer, all being the genuine (Wilder's) Patent Salamander, or Herring's Improved Patent Salamander Safe, which received the medal at the Great World's Fair, and which have never failed to preserve the contents in case of fire. Purchasers can select from the largest assortment in the world by calling at the safe rooms of
